Liyu Lake is located at the foot of Liyu Mountain, in Shoufeng Township's Chinan Village. It is only 18 kilometers from Hualien City, and is one of the older scenic areas.

Liyu Lake is about 1.6 kilometers in length, and 930 meters in width, making it the largest inland lake in Hualien County.

2015 04

The original inhabitants called it "Dapo", while the Ami called it "Banao". It was later named Liyu Lake (Carp Lake) after Liyu Mountain, located by its east banks. After the East Rift Valley National Scenic Area was established, more planning followed, allowing Liyu Lake to become a site of many varied recreational activities, such as light-boat sailing, the construction of a single-lane road to encircle the lake, and footpaths for strolling along the shore. Liyu Lake has a visitor center where visitors can find detailed information on all aspects of traveling.
