Gourmet food in the East Rift Valley

Papaya milk

The papaya milk sold for more than 5 decades near Liyu Lake is made from fresh milk from Ruisui without adding any sugar, water, and ice. Unfiltered, you can taste the mellowness and sweetness of both papaya and milk. You can also eat the shreds of papaya's flesh too.

Position: South Liyu Lake Recreation Area

Golden Clam

Clam is good for your liver, rich in protein, and low in purine, sodium, and cholesterol. When the clams grow up in clear water, they are gold in color. The clearer the water, the more gold in color. Therefore, they call the clams cultivated in Shoufeng Township, Hualien, "Golden Clam." There are also nutritious food or nutritional supplements made with "Golden Clam."

Position: Lichuan Aquafarm

Panna cotta

Chao Feng Ranch cultivates cows imported from the Netherlands. Grown up in a quality environment, they produce quality milk and dairy products. The farm uses milk produced there to make ice-cream and fresh cheese with their own special recipe. The cheese is rich with the flavor of milk and smooth. When visiting the ranch, visitors are recommended to taste these delicious dairy products, which can be shipped to your home by courier service as well.

Position: Shin Kong Chao Feng Leisure Farm

Leek and Stinky Tofu

The special local delicacy in Fenglin-leek and stinky tofu – is a favorite dish of the local people. The deep-fried stinky tofu is aromatic and crunchy. But it is tender inside. Served with raw leek, its aroma and taste are wonderful.

Position: Fenglin Station

Lemon juice

The milk lemon juice is made with whole lemons, including skins, grown without using pesticide. After the lemon is squashed in the juice machine, it is served with slowly-cooked syrup with sugar made by Taiwan Sugar. Then, a proper ratio of condensed milk is added according to the secret recipe to complete this cool and thirst quenching milk lemon juice.

Coffee

Lintian Mountain Community Coffee was rebuilt from the red cypress quarters of senior officers during the Japanese rule. Although its decorations are modern, it still retains the appearance of the simplicity of old Japanese houses. Visitors should follow the Japanese way to take off their shoes when entering the house. It is nice to enjoy a cup of coffee and the landscapes of Hualien in the afternoon sun.

Position: Lintian Mountain Forestry Center

Sugar factory shredded ice

Hualien Sightseeing Sugar Factory was an important sugar factory in east Taiwan in the early times. In 2002, it was changed into a Sightseeing Sugar Factory. When visiting here, visitors should not miss the shredded ice dishes here. The most famous ones are Red Bean and Milk Shredded Ice and Moon Shredded Ice, both of which are popular snacks here. If you find them tasty, you may like to buy some ice cream or ice-lolly to take home. They can be shipped to your door by courier service.
